

Ohio Science Olympiad Invitationals

(October 5, 2009)

Some schools in the state of Ohio will run invitationals before the regional competitions. These invitationals are practices for teams in preparation for regional competitions. The invitationals use the Science Olympiad rules, but coaches serve as the event supervisors and run the events. Ribbons and trophies are awarded to the top teams at each invitational.

There is usually a registration fee to participate in each of the invitationals. Listed below are the invitationals of which we are aware, along with the cost and contact person. Contact the invitational directors to register for each invitational, and good luck in this year's competition.
